Dear VSA Families,

Student courses for Summer A will be ready – believe it or not – on Monday, May 22 by 12:00 pm ET in Schoology (VSA’s Learning Management System). You will have access to your course pages, course assignment sheets, updates, and welcome videos from your teachers. Your students should be prepared for their first day of class on Monday, June 5, so please take a few minutes and watch this welcome video (link below). It will help you prepare for your first class of the summer term. We’re going to hit the ground running, so please encourage your children to be ready for the first days of their summer courses.

For new parents and students (and returning students, if you wish), we hope you will join our Dean of Students and me for an online introductory meeting in the Welcome to Summer A Meeting Room on Wednesday, May 24 at 11:00 am ET. This meeting will help acclimate you to VSA and introduce you to our Administration.

Lastly, the VSA Student and Parent Handbook and the VSA Technology Handbook, found in the Parent Group and on the Veritas website, both have a wealth of information to help students and parents navigate our courses and systems. If your student is new to us, you will be added to our Parent Group on the 22nd as well (you’ll want to use this resource!). Our handbooks are comprehensive, so please take some time to peruse them.

We continue to pray for you and your children. We love our students, and we trust that their summer course experiences will be exceptional.

*As a reminder, Summer A course balances will be charged on Monday, May 22.

Blessings,
Dr. Bob Cannon
Headmaster
